Thorne Donnelley Receives Permit for Ship to Shore Radio

Thorne Donnelley, who is vice-president of Reuben H. Donnelley Corporation, printers and publishers, will make ship to shore radio service available to Lake Michigan sailors about June 1, from his radio station, WAY, located one mile north of Lake Bluff.

Promotion of safety on the Great Lakes is the primary function of the service. The range is limited at present, but Mr. Donnelley considers asking the federal communications commission for additional channels so that all five lakes may be blanketed. The station will be in operation for 24 hours each day and operators will listen to messages on three bands, one for small boats, one for ships and one for the coast guard. In this way the station will be ready to relay any distress signal of any kind at any hour of the day or night.

While the station will give emergency aid without charge at all times, a charge of $5 a month is contemplated for all boat owners desiring regular commercial service.

Two telephone toll lines are being installed from the station to the telephone company switchboards at Highland Park. By means of the radio and these lines a person aboard a commercial boat or yacht will be able to call the station by radio and then be connected by telephone line to any desired point.

The station will charge 75 cents on station to station calls and 90 cents on person to person calls, in addition to the telephone toll charges. WAY's service charges will be increased proportionately when the calls go over the basic three minute time.

Present plans call for the dissemination of weather information four times a day. Mr. Donnelley also plans to have available free medical advice that can be broadcast to a boat in time of need.

The only other station on the Great Lakes which is comparable with WAY, is one at Lorain, O. This station does not handle messages from pleasure craft, but confines its activities to merchant vessels.

The Lorain station, which has sufficient channels to reach all parts of the lakes, opposed Mr. Donnelley's petition for an operating permit. The FCC ruled, however, that a station was needed in the vicinity of Chicago.

Miss Doris Curran is giving a picnic supper at her home on East Westminster this evening for the members of the R. A. club of the Y. W. C. A. An informal afternoon of games will precede the meeting.

Aldersgate Service to be Observed by Methodist Church

Tuesday, May 24, at 7:45 p.m., a special worship service is to be held in the sanctuary of the Lake Forest Methodist Church. Rev. Kenneth A. Carlson will preach on "The Spiritual Impact of John Wesley."

There appears this remarkable entry in the diary of John Wesley for the evening of May 24, 1738—"I went very unwillingly to Aldersgate Street where one was reading Luther's preface to the Epistle to the Romans. About a quarter to nine, while he was describing the changes that God works through the heart through faith in Christ, I felt my heart strangely warmed."

Methodists throughout the world are this year commemorating the two hundredth anniversary of this "strange warming of the heart" experienced by John Wesley—an experience that gave impetus to the founding of the movement which was destined to become Methodism. For fifty years after that discovery of faith on that memorable May 24, John Wesley rode up and down through England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales like a flame. And in that time he rode 250,000 miles on horseback, recorded 42,000 sermons, and often preached as many as nine sermons a day. The result was that a new spirit of service came into religion. Everywhere Wesley went he preached in jails, talked to the poor, helped put roofs over the heads of widows and orphans, and counselled with the heartbroken. He was the first preacher of the social gospel that the English tongue ever heard.

Aldersgate Sunday, May 22. Methodists of Lake Forest will observe the day with two special services. At the time of the 11 o'clock service, Dr. Irl G. Whitchurch, of Northwestern University, will preach. The worshippers will join with every Methodist congregation in the United States, who on this day will share in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

At 7:45 p.m. the negro choir from the Monumental Baptist Church, Chicago, will render a program of sacred anthems and negro spirituals. This choir of forty voices, under the direction of Miss Forestine Neal, is said to be one of the great negro choral groups of the United States. This promises to be one of the most significant musical presentations of the entire year. Congregations from the Lake Bluff, North Chicago, and other North Shore Methodist churches will join in this service. The Rev. Kenneth A. Carlson, pastor of the church, will speak briefly on the significance of Aldersgate for the Christian Church.

Highwood Team Next on Lake Forest's League Schedule

With the opening game with Highland Park rained out, the Lake Forest baseball team is training this week for its contest with the Highwood Boosters to be played at South Park on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Highwood is considered the strongest team in the League and the Foresters must play well to win.

Manager Jim Hay said that he would start either Bernard Dieck or Charles "Cannonball" Cascarano against the Highwood nine.
